Welcome back luminary we are ringing in the new year and for our last full moon of 2021. I have the one and only Natalie Miller. We are going to discuss everything about this upcoming full moon. Say Hi Natalie. Hello. Welcome to the savvy luminary podcast astrology for entrepreneurs. I'm your host, Leslie Tagorda, creator of the Astro rad method, business astrologer, grand designer, author and Aquarius boss woman, I help visionaries, spiritual entrepreneurs and impact makers like you illuminate and amplify your unique star powers. So you can be the luminary you were born to be. You know, for the listeners out here, what we're doing today is so special because we're actually we're working together and this episode will be broadcast on two of our podcasts, the savvy luminary. So all these luminaries, welcome, and Natalie.

N Natalie Miller 01:12

Yes, and mind witchery. So hello, witches. So glad that you get to hear a bit of Leslie's magic and the magic that she and I make together. So part of the reason that we are doing this collaborative episode today is that Leslie and I are deep in a co creative moment together. I had my socks knocked off. When I opened up my Voxer. Like, couple weeks ago, it was only a couple weeks, a couple of weeks, what are we doing? I know. And Leslie was writing her new moon rituals book for 2022. And she was like, Hey, how about we make it new moon and full moon and we read it together. And I of course was like in. Obviously, that sounds incredible. And so Leslie and I are co authoring a book for 2022 on new and full moon rituals with like, Astro information for each of the new and full moons and guidance for you around how to use them and suffer flexion questions which you know, I love to give you at the New Moon and Leslie loves to give her Yes. Also. Yes. So Leslie, why did you ask me? Why did you want to do this with me?

L Leslie Tagorda

Well, co creation collaboration has been on my mind for like the last year the last two. And just as I was writing the book and thinking, Gosh, how can I make this easier? How can I make this more impactful? How can I add to this without it feeling overwhelming. And then your beautiful face popped into my head? And I was like, well, this can't just be for entrepreneurs, because entrepreneurs, like that is a small I love my entrepreneurs, I am an entrepreneur, but we all need this. And I know that you work with feminist changemakers. And, you know, when we're looking at the work that we have both kind of coined with that capital W Yeah, that work that's part of our spiritual journey part of our path part of the impact we're here to make on the world that we are co creating, co evolving with the lunations and the cycle of mood. I can't just reserve this for entrepreneurs, but I want to bring this to entrepreneurs and changemakers and what better way to get it out for them in the world than to co create with you Miss Natalie.

N

Natalie Miller 03:50

I love that. And you know, there's two things I want to highlight in there that feel so important to me. One is that expansion of impact, right? Like we are everyone I think will recognize this in our culture. We in the dominant culture, I should say in the dominant culture, we are taught to go it alone. We are taught the way forward is nose to the grindstone is climbing the ladder, who cares if you step on other people on your way up climb that ladder take

L

Leslie Tagorda

It's almost like a prerequisite to step on.

N

Natalie Miller 04:30

I know right? Yeah, it's like yeah, they give you I think they give you they give you a corner office when you step on your first person. Yeah. Yeah. So we we are taught that it is an individualistic effort that it is your rugged individualism that makes you succeed and that gives you power right? So we have this idea that oh, there are there are geniuses and they rise above the crowd. or there are, you know, the Elon Musk's of the world and they're just one Steve Jobs, they're just wonders and they're, you know, they're so like, incredibly smart and, and, and or disciplined and or rebellious, that they are able to stand out. Or there's like the or there's these gurus, that it's my way. And if you have to follow my path, otherwise nothing else is gonna work out for you. Yes, totally. Right. It's this idea that like, in fact, if anyone's ever told you, just let me download my brain into yours, you know, that is rugged individualism, right? There is like when someone thinks that their thoughts are worthy of download to like, overwrite your system.

Leslie Tagorda

N

Natalie Miller 05:25

That's a that's a yikes with a capital Y. Yeah, red flag. Like, right. So the reality is, of course, that we are all always co creating. The reality is that there is not any human who could or does exist without the support of other humans. Like period.

L Leslie Tagorda
Relationships,

N Natalie Miller 06:14
right? And we're taught almost that, oh, no, if you get enough money, enough success, you'll be able to not need other people. But there is no such thing as not needing other people. We are all in this together.

L Leslie Tagorda
Yeah, yeah. Well, interestingly, as we look down the road for like, what's coming for us in 2022. And beyond, at least from an astrological perspective, there are so many indications to co creation, and reciprocal living and coming back to like smaller communities, where we are breaking down the boxes of like these old top down authoritarian systems, and bringing in more collaboration, co creation. There's just like, one of the you know, as we were writing our books that we'll talk about, there's this process of repatriation that I am so excited to bring into this new year and repatriation does not happen. Top down.

N Natalie Miller 07:17
talk just a little bit about repatriation. Will you Leslie, because you kind of discovered that and pulled it in and it is super inspiring.

L Leslie Tagorda
Well, you know, as we were looking through your 2022, putting together all of our new moons and full moons coming up, one of the themes that really comes to fore in Virgo season, in around August is this idea of repatriation, and repatriation. I heard it being said in a couple of places on different kind of news sources, but there is an entire website dedicated to repatriation, not repatriation, we think of repatriation, we might think of you know, how would you describe repatriation? That's the word that we're mostly

N Natalie Miller 08:01
Yeah, repeat? Well, Patriot tising. Right is sort of saying like, well, what tribe? Do you belong to? What country do you belong to? Which land is yours? Right? The whole idea is that like, you know, we're humans. And we're kind of deciding, which is the group of humans that we kind of align with. And then which are the humans that we are against? That's kind of what that's the vibe I get from repatriation.

L Leslie Tagorda

Yeah. And then also, on a scientific level, there's this idea of like, how can we bring back? How can we restore the land, and a lot of times we're bringing, like native species back into the land scientists have called this repatriation. But there are, there's an entire website dedicated to remake creation. So repatriation.com, where repatriation is a powerful word, Indigenous Women of Turtle Island used to describe how they are restoring balance to the world. It means returning the sacred to the mother. And so again, this is not just like a singular tribe. These are women from many different tribes on Turtle Island, meaning our earth here coming together and saying, How are we going to be stewards of this land? How are we going to work together to restore and to me like this collaboration, this reciprocity, this working in community and circle is really what we are building towards. Yeah. And it's less achievement oriented, but it also does afford a bigger and more sustainable impact. And I just want to pause there for a moment because that is hard for our minds to kind of wrap around right? Achievement. Winning is not the only way to have power and to have impact. We can do that we can have impact in a more collaborative co creative way. And that way is inherently more balanced and sustainable. Can I talk for a second about our actual process of writing the book? Leslie, please?

N Natalie Miller 09:27

L Leslie Tagorda

Yes, please do.

N Natalie Miller 10:13

So when we first started out, we kind of did it like almost like you would do a class project, right? It was like, Okay. Leslie's gonna do new moon Natalie's gonna do the full moons. And we'll just make it go. And we each did one. And then I looked at what Leslie wrote, and Leslie, look at what I wrote. And what we discovered just in this because both of us were very open to it. I think, just in that exchange was you know what? Leslie is really good at the big picture. And she's really good at kind of identifying immediately. What is the impact of this astrological signature that goes with this new moon? Because she's an astrologer? Of course, she's good at that. Right? The answer to the tiny details. Exactly. Right. And I am really good at word smithing and at coming up with these Kochi questions because I am an English major and a coach, right? So what we found is that we could make a way to work together where Leslie can kind of say, here's the bullet points for this moon. And I can take those bullet points and like weave them into a paragraph, write

L Leslie Tagorda

Leslie Tagorda
a paragraph of poetry, say,

N Natalie Miller 11:31

but the bigger thing is y'all like, it's so easy. And it better be because we're like, hello, it's the end of 2020. And we're like, you know, finishing this book. But you know, which we say with all honesty and humility, but it's like, when we work together, it's easier when you have a potluck. It's easier. It's like, Hey, you don't we're missing? Veggies, bring some veggies, right? Or someone says, I make the most amazing pie. I've got pie, I'm bringing pie, you just know, oh my gosh, right? Like, we get to all have that and not even worry about that part. Because each individual so like, this is what it is. Yeah, the individuals are coming together in their individuality, but not with the intention of out shining or out doing. It's with the intention of making it easier, have finer and better and better the whole thing. It's like, how will this whole expand when we're together?

L Leslie Tagorda

Yeah, it was interesting, because first of all, when I was inspired to ask you to write the book with me, I only have these visions of it just being like, fantastic. And both of us have all of this mutable energy. So I had this, I had this trust in the sense that we were going to find our flow, which we found super quickly. Now, like, immediately,

N Natalie Miller 13:13

it was wild. Yeah.

L Leslie Tagorda

Are we done with the book yet? No. Are we excited? And under pressure? All of the thing, all of the things? Yeah. But what is more important to us quality, or speed, quality, quality, quality, we want this to be good. And what is more important to us something that is in integrity for us, or something that we can like get posted on our websites on December 26th. Like integrity. Integrity is important.

N Natalie Miller 13:26

L Leslie Tagorda

When also the idea of integrity, right? It's also thinking about the long term, even though we haven't even yet finished this book. And I wrote one just for the new moons in 2021. We're already thinking well, in 2023, when we do this, again, we're going to start earlier.

N

Natalie Miller 14:14

Totally, totally. Well, we're in a place of learning and growing. And I think that you know, because so often when we come together, we're in a place of and this is just the way that it gets organized for us, right? We're in a place of competition or management. Right? Wouldn't you say? I mean, I have a daughter who has a school project right now. And I would like you all to think back to your days of school projects, right? Yeah. And I was Marvel I was just thinking about this actually. She and her group are not being taught how to collaborate. They've been given an assignment. And of course, you know, what is the goal? The goal is to complete it on time with an A. Okay? They're not being taught how to co create, how to come together. And so, you know, one thing that Leslie and I discovered, because she and I both are we have the mutable energy. But also we are collaborators. This is not our first collaboration, and it won't be our last is that there's got to be an honoring of each individual and what each individual is bringing, what's the perspective? What are the strengths? And what are the like, what are the areas of wobble that they have to write, I keep telling my partner, there is no way I would take on a project like this like a book, because for me, the logistical details would be overwhelming. And meanwhile, Leslie is like, here's our here's our production schedule. And I'm like, Whoa, it's amazing, right? It's just beautiful. So that's a wobble. For me. It's like, Whoa, oh, my gosh, all these all these production details and the logistics of it. Like that's a wobble for me. But when I'm working with Leslie, she can bring that into our collaboration. Yeah. And my wobble is I see the big picture. But I see all the teeny tiny little details too. And I can easily overwhelm people with all the details and Natalie's like, no, what's the big feeling that we're gonna swish here? Yeah, she just takes it. It's just like, so magical. And I'm really excited about this book that we are co creating, because I just know that this is going to be the first of many. And you know, two, three years from now people are going to be like Natalie Leslie, when the next month, the next book coming to Kleiner, we're working with the lunations. And our businesses and our work are just growing and this beautiful coevolution with the moon.

N

Natalie Miller 16:56

That's so good. Let's talk about that capital W work for just a sec. As Leslie and I were talking about, okay, like, if it's not entrepreneurship, but it's also not just like change making, like, what are we? What are we talking about? Are we talking about people's businesses? Are we talking about their careers? And what we came up with is, I think a more spacious and like, open to co creativity word, which is work with a capital W. By which? Well, what do you mean by that? Leslie, I know what I mean by that, what do you mean by that?

Leslie Tagorda

For me, just because my because work is so important to me, like I have all this energy in the sixth house, this service to others, I want to make sure that I am serving others. And that's part of my work. And so when I look at work, I'm looking at it from this spiritual perspective, as our work is part of our spiritual journey. As we learn who we are our identity, what we value, what we are here to be the change in the world. And for me, and for my people, it is through their work. Now, not everybody is like this. And I totally get that. And but the people that I know that I am meant to serve, they are also meant to serve others. And it's through this idea of work. And so that's what I mean, like our work, that is our purpose on our spiritual journey.

N

Natalie Miller 18:23

Yeah, I love that. And for me, I think work with a capital W really is like, what are you here? To give like, what, what is your individual contribution, that whole potluck idea? What are you bringing to the what is it that your trials and tribulations and your talents and proclivities that your interests like this magical mix that you have? What does that create that is yours to give into the collective right? So it's similar? And it's different? Leslie's orienting towards service, I'm orienting toward, like, kind of that like, individual shine that makes us all work together. Right? It's, they're complementary.

L

Leslie Tagorda

They're complementary there. It's so beautiful, how this all just works out together. So well,

N

Natalie Miller 19:17

it does, it does. But to circle back to the grip project, right? It works because I'm not trying to be better than you. You're not trying to control the thing, like we really are looking at, okay, where, where do I feel best? How does this work? How do we, it really is a vibe thing. How is it easiest for this to unfold? What's most important here? And then we're able to orient together towards those, like qualities, rather than thinking about like, well, you know, I wrote 50 pages and she wrote 60 pages and what does that mean? I guess I have to, you know, like, there's no counting crap like that. We're in a different We're in a different realm. And I think to enable co creativity, we've got to get into that qualitative realm. Like, what is the magic of Natalie? Plus, Leslie, what do we get that way? I don't even want to question it. I don't even want to, like look at it or try to like, define it too much. It's like, what are those things that just like falls in your, through your fingers when you try to hold on to it. But I think for me, ultimately, the reason not only the reasons that I want to collaborate, but the reason why I want to bring this work out into the world is that I see how potent it is working in co creation and coevolution. With the moon, like, I've personally been using new and full moon rituals in my work and in my business, and in my personal life for years. And you too, Natalie, right?

Leslie Tagorda

N

Natalie Miller 20:46

Me, too. Yeah. And it's like for me, because I have listeners who are not necessarily into the Astro, which is totally fine. But to have these periodic moments where you pause, and you check in, and not just check in with the same questions, although that has its use too. But you check in with some questions that are coming from these bigger, broader influences, and are inviting you to look at the world through this lens, or that access or these polarities. That is so incredibly helpful. In it's like, for me, it helps me become more fully present to where I am, it helps me see more opportunities. helps me see more contacts, it just helps me see better where I am.

L Leslie Tagorda

Yeah, I feel like when I'm looking at like the chart of illumination, and the different relationships and positions of the different planets in the solar system, I can feel the relationship, the energy of that relationship. And to me, they're always asking us a question. They're asking us to make a decision. Because one of the things that I look at in astrology is that we are not fated by certain energies, that we actually have a choice, and that we can create our own destiny. So I'm always getting curious with what are these planets asking us, and even though the sun and the moon, they are going through the zodiac sign, and they're, you know, going through in the exact same order and have the full moons and the new moons all in the same exact order, the different positions of the planets are adding just that little extra spice that gives us other more specific questions that we are meant to work with and to inquire with, like what you said, they're inviting us to, to hear them and to work with. They're kind of like little nudges, like, hey, why don't you try this? It's like an ultimate co creativity, right? is really what it is. It's like, okay, so here I am, and I'm going along in my life, and these things are hard, and these things are going okay, and I'm hopeful about that. But I'm scared about this, right? So here I am. And then there's a moment where I look up in the sky, and the moon is so full, it looks like it's hanging there like a peach or, or the moon is so like yellow or so red. Or there's just a sliver of its crescent. And I get this moment of like, oh, right, am a human on planet Earth. And planet Earth has a moon and the moon is illuminated by a sun. I am part of something so much bigger. And then when we expand with the help of astrologers like, Okay, where are where are the other planets in the sky? Where's Jupiter? Where's Venus? Like, what else is happening here? And we start to say, Okay, let's ask some questions based on how these planets are interacting. That is where the truly co creative magic happens, because you can take those questions into your own specific hopes and fears and circumstances and stuckness is and you can get liberating empowering perspective. It's fucking phenomenal.

N Natalie Miller 22:52

L Leslie Tagorda

I love it. speaking to the choir, it's the best.

N Natalie Miller 24:22

So let's talk about this new this Full Moon in Gemini.

L Leslie Tagorda

Leslie Tagorda

Yeah, yes. So you know, when as we are thinking about our co creative process, and as we are talking about writing this book that will be released very soon in ebook and then be available, of course, to purchase from your favorite retailers. And we had our last lunation coming up and we're like, we need to talk about this lunation Yes, because when we're talking about full moons versus New Moons full moons are a time of full illumination where you have the perspective that you need to see hey, Am I where I want to be right now? Or am I not where I want to be right now? And if I'm not where I want to be, why not? What are the things that are that are blocking me, the things that I haven't committed to, and this Full Moon are very last one, a full illumination, the perfect time to reflect back on the last 12 months ahead behind us, rather, so that we can make space for the next 12 months ahead. And with the sun and optimistic, Sagittarius, all of the hope and the joy and the possibilities, and then the Moon in Gemini saying goodbye to overthinking goodbye to feeling overwhelmed. There's so many beautiful things about this Full Moon that are even triggering specific questions for us to really reassess what we need to let go of and leave in the past of 2021. And what we want to bring forward into 2022.

N Natalie Miller 26:04

You know, Leslie, that is so I love that. And also, this is the first Full Moon in Gemini sense since before 2020. That has not been an eclipse. So this is a place where this this Gemini place, wherever it is for you in your chart has been a place that has been through it. Capital, Ben capital through a capital, it 2020 2021 all of the demands on us to be changing so much in response to the pandemic, in response to the extreme flare up of fascism in our world, right, like have been asking us to respond. And so this full moon, it does feel like this moment of like, okay, we went through that. How did we grow? What do we want to take with us? What's the strength that we built? What's the freedom that we claimed? Because a lot of people claimed a lot of freedom in those eclipses. And then also, as you said, Leslie, what no longer is working? What? What do I want to take out of my backpack and leave right here? Before I continue on my way?

L Leslie Tagorda

Oh, good one, right. So

N Natalie Miller 26:20

L Leslie Tagorda

Oh, my gosh, for sure. Well, how did this work out for you? Personally, Natalie? Because this is this full moon, not the Eclipse this is happening for you on your angle right at the root of your chart.

N Natalie Miller 27:37

It's the root of my chart. Yeah.

L

Leslie Tagorda

And for me, it's happening right on the ascendant. And so like, how did this happen, that we are here today, and both of our angles are being impacted by being impacted?

N

Natalie Miller 27:48

I know, right? It's sort of like, well, I guess that's part of why we're doing this but yeah, totally. Well, you know, for me, so with the, with the full moon at the base of my chart, I mean, really, almost exactly at what's called the, what's called the I see. I am more aware than ever at how important it is for me to take care of my body. Like my, my, my home, my body, the root of everything I'm able to do depends on like structural integrity, right? And because my IC is in Gemini, Gemini is mutable air, it's like the most changeable the lightest, and so I'm definitely a person who can like do all kinds of different things. And right now what I'm really realizing with the full moon that hanging there, like at the at the base of my chart is just like, listen, whatever you're doing, and there's no one right way. Gemini really likes a one right way. Whatever you're doing, though, is so important. We must always check in with body with body, with body with home with environment. So that's what I'm really noticing. What are you noticing with the moon at your ascendant?

Leslie Tagorda

Yeah. So with the I see at the bottom of our chart with your Gemini, if one of the ways that we can look at like the overwhelm of that Gemini Moon is this idea of overthinking and so for you to affirm it that in reverse to be an antidote of that overthinking is to embody and to route down into curiosity and that thinking part just to ground you. For me in my rising sign. I have to stop overthinking about how to be a leader and so I'm a Gemini rising. This Full Moon will be like five minute five degrees away from my ascendant and I'm really looking forward to reflecting back all of the ways I've grown as a collaborative leader. Um, you know, Natalie, one of the things that we didn't share is that we also have our North nodes are kind of our stretch potential or souls stretch, both in the seventh house. And yeah, this is an seventh house of partnerships. And this is something that I notice all the time and my clients, so many of us have our North nodes in the seventh house. And if you're kind of an astro techie, and you know how to find your north node, just check it out, see if it's in your seventh house, because if it's in your seventh house, you do your you're meant to do your best work while you're collaborating.

N

Natalie Miller 30:34

And you're, you're hungry for and fed by collaborations also, right, like they helped you to get inspired and to show up in a bigger way. Yeah. Okay. So let's look at some of the aspects that are happening with this Full Moon Leslie. So we can give everyone some of those questions that can come through those aspects. So there is a Jupiter thing going on, tell us about.

Leslie Tagorda

Jupiter is generally like this buoyant and optimistic. And it's an expansive energy. It loves this feeling of gratitude. It loves diversity, it loves purpose, it loves vision. And as its training, the Trine is a harmonious aspect, meaning that it has this very, a beautiful sound beautiful feel to it's very supportive and inflow. And so Jupiter, if you are if you're full of gratitude, and hope, I feel like this actual this Full Moon is going to feel probably like the least amount of stress that we've been feeling in quite a while. And so remember to keep your energy up so that Jupiter can just really expand on everything.

N

Natalie Miller 31:44

Yeah, I love that. And so a question might be like, when I tune into my body when I tune into moon, right, when I tune into my body, my relation, it's like my emotional relationships, my emotional wellness, when I when I attuned to that. What have I learned? What have I learned? What helps me grow and nurture and expand? Those are some questions that might be inspired by a harmonious relationship from the one that is optimistic and wisdom and growth oriented. And then the moon, which is changing all the time and is so close, and is so related to our bodies and our emotions.

Leslie Tagorda

Yes, yeah, that sounds so wonderful. I want to talk about the full moon that is in a quincunx to the Venus Pluto conjunction. So it can conks is kind of more of a spiritual kind of aspect. It's not a it's one of what we would call like a minor aspect. But it represents this idea of there's not really a good way to say it's not exactly harmonious, there's always this tension. You can think of like this kind of power play this kind of master servants kind of power play like for any of us who has an assistant or right hand man like I do, you know, in a way, my Jeff, my right hand man is in service to me, like he's helping me out a lot. But on the other hand, like I am totally dependent on him.

N

Natalie Miller 33:21

And also, I don't know about you, but my assistant constantly tells me what to do. That's actually how I that's that's how I get assistance is I'm told what to do. It's the best.

L

Leslie Tagorda

So it's an interesting dynamic. And Venus and Pluto are both in Capricorn, and they're going to be dancing for the next couple of months because Venus is going to be going in her retrograde motion. Venus in Capricorn is about collaborating and partnerships and being connected with other people over the shared goals over building something for longevity. And so this is so wonderful. I have my natal Venus in Capricorn. And of course, that's why I love creating things together. But with Venus and Pluto together now these are impact in practical collaborators.

And so this full moon, to me is really asking, What has been your relationship with feeling like, can you trust? Can you work? Are you giving up too much control in your collaborations? And it's just asking you to get curious and to see your role in that relationship.

N

Natalie Miller 34:29

Hmm, yeah, I will add that with Pluto there with Venus. You know, Pluto is the truth teller in that Pluto is like wants us to know that we really don't know what the fuck we're doing. I love Pluto for being like, am I a planet? Am I not a planet? Am I the end? Am I not the end like you don't know what you're doing right? So, Pluto challenges that human desire to know. And to be sure and it's always digging For a deeper truth, and it's always asking for transformation. And so there's a piece here to where it's like with Venus and Pluto together. Venus wants to relate. Venus wants to harmonize. Venus is Venus loved the first part of this conversation is like, yes. co creation, right? Pluto was like, oh, yeah, let's talk about group projects. Group projects are fucked, right. And they're challenging and there's power dynamic in there. Right. So I think there's an opportunity for a really deep and refreshing honesty around, okay. It's true. There are power issues in co creation and in collaboration. So how can we be mindful of them? How can we respect them? How can we beam?

L

Leslie Tagorda

Yeah, them to be transparent about them? Yes, we'll be talking about how we're feeling. So like, even with with Natalie and I, when we're collaborating, we're like on Voxer. And I'm like, I know I'm feeling a little stressed. You might be to do this.

N

Natalie Miller 36:05

Yeah, exactly. Right. Or we'll say like, listen, I just, I didn't have this in me. Or I will say, You know what, I think this whole section is just too much. Let's let it go. Right. So yeah, it is about that kind of the willingness in the collaboration, to be honest, and to let that honesty actually also make it better. So I love that. And love that.

Leslie Tagorda

The last thing I really want to talk about in this Full Moon that we have, and I forgot to mention, it's on December 18. At the end of the week, 8:36pm. Pacific 11:36pm For for everyone in the eastern time zone is that with this full moon, we also have Mars and the South Node in Sagittarius just hanging out. And to me, we were talking about this before we hit record, but the south node and like the North Node where we're supposed to stretch into our potential, the south node is where we're supposed to let go and not get stuck in past patterns. Mars about being the best about being the first about competing about, it's all about me, South Node, we're letting that all go because we don't have room for that in 2022.

N

Natalie Miller 37:18

We don't have room for that in 2022. And you know, oh my gosh, I'm about to make a non we don't have room for that in 2022. And you know, on my gosh, I'm about to make a pop culture reference. For the people that know of this pop culture reference. This is perfect. And for those of you who don't, I'm sorry, but you should watch this show anyway. So Leslie, have you watched Ted Lasso? Not yet. Okay. So, Ted Lasso in TED Lasso. Everybody who has fans of that show? Jamie Tartt is Mars. Jamie Tartt is Mars wants to win win at any cost. Go get it. Super, super, super like. Like, competitive, right? wants to be the best wants to stand apart. And Mars is there at the South Node kind of like this happens in the show. Like there's just this like, there's not really a foothold for that right now. And Ted Lasso is the super chatty, gregarious, curious.

The Full Moon in Gemini.

N Natalie Miller 38:22
The Full Moon in Gemini like is just sort of like, how can we make this work? I don't know. Let's do it together. Right. And it's just lighter, and it's freer. And it really is like, it is a moment. It is a TED Lasso moment. So those of you who know the show, you're like, No, I understand those of you who don't go watch that because I just like, Oh, it's so it's so heart feeding. It's on. It's on Apple TV plus, yeah.

L Leslie Tagorda
To add that to my list, especially since the session. I'm almost done with that. So yeah, something else to watch.

N Natalie Miller 38:53
Oh, yes. Yes, exactly. It's the antidote to succession. That's for sure.

L Leslie Tagorda
That's pretty deep. Venus and Pluto.

N Natalie Miller 39:03
In the fourth house? Totally. Yes, exactly. That's what's happening there. Okay. Okay, good. So that. All right, everybody. Well, thank you so much for joining us for this celebration of co creation. I hope that you actually I kind of invite you take away for your own self, what you noticed about the way that we co created this episode today, right? Like that's the other thing is, we love to show up and to teach and to give. But we want you to know that like you are teaching yourself. You're taking this and you're making meaning out of it. Like we really are all in this together.

L Leslie Tagorda
So beautiful.

N Natalie Miller 39:49
Beautiful. All right. So let's see. Leslie, do you want to talk a little bit about what's happening for you in 2022?

L Leslie Tagorda
So many things are happening in 2022. But before we even get to 2022, can we tell people how they can buy this book? Let's do that. Alright, so right now, there is only one way to get this book. But there will be multiple ways of getting this book as soon as we finished writing it. So right now, I have a year end offer called 2022 in the stars, and it's a strategic and planning tool. So you can leverage everything that's coming up for 2022 in your work. And part of that toolkit, part of that bundle is the ebook version of new and full moon rituals for entrepreneurs and changemakers. co authored by myself, Leslie Tagorda, and Natalie Miller. And so if you head on over to my website, the savvy.luminary.com, forward slash 2022, you can sign up for, for 2022 in the stars, and there is also a waitlist so that you can order this book when it is available for print. I love it. What do you have coming up for you, Natalie?

N Natalie Miller 41:04
What do I have coming up? Well, I'm really excited that for those of you who are interested in the book book, it will exist in early 2022. So I'm really excited about that I was spending my mom was very cute. I told her about it. And this was like I didn't I didn't know I needed this badge on my daughter on my like my daughter Girl Scout thing but write a book apparently was definitely a badge because she was super excited to see that would be really fun. And you know, for me in 2022, I've been doing so much one on one coaching in 2021. And I'll be shifting my model a little bit to be a more hybridized group one on one sort of situation. So really excited to move toward that in 2022. And of course I have a retreat happening in Taos, which Leslie, that was our collaboration is I invited Leslie to come to one of these Taoists retreats. So she can attest it as a magical place. magical, magical and magic happens there. And do you know everybody, like by the time you hear this, I think there will be three spots left in that retreat, which I know well, which just tells you it's right on time because lots of people want to come and make magic in the desert. So if you have your hopes set on one, then you should pop right on over to my website, Natalie K miller.com. And scroll to the bottom and say take me to those questions. And then we'll we'll see what you say about about coming to the retreat and maybe talk to you about a spot.

L Leslie Tagorda
Oh my goodness. Well, Natalie, thank you for being on my podcast, the savvy luminary. And if you don't already know Natalie, find her on her podcast the mind witchery

N

Natalie Miller 42:48

Yes, exactly. And Leslie, thank you for being on my podcast mind witchery and if you don't already know Leslie, you should totally check her out at the savvy luminary podcast. So cute. Do you see this is what i This is the new phrase that I've really integrated this year. It's feeding two birds with one stone that's what we do today. We said two birds we said we said two podcast streams with one episode.

L

Leslie Tagorda

We have said so many birds with this one scone let's just say yes,

N

Natalie Miller 43:21

yes. No, it is a tasty. It is a tasty big ass scone. We Alright, everyone take good care of yourselves, please through these. These always weird last weeks of December. They are intense, but they're spacious. They're definitely a little disrupted for everyone just because we humans do kind of collectively inject some schedule mishap or schedule space I guess into into the end of the year. Some of us have holidays, and some of us don't. And some of us love it. And some of us really don't. And so however you find yourself here at the end of 2020 2021 whether you are excited and ready to jump into the new year, or whether you need to like lie down and watch that whole Ted lasso show. Whatever it is that you need to do, I hope you will treat yourself with such kindness and to trust that your best contribution comes from your nurtured and fed self. Yeah.

luminaries and witches with this full moon. I hope that you are able to illuminate all of the ways that you have inspired others and how you've received inspiration over this last year.

N

Natalie Miller 44:48

Yay. All right. Thank you, Leslie.
