Welcome to Star powered astrology for changemakers I have Leslie Tagorda Your guide, a Hawaii born Filipino Jewish astrologer who loves navigating visionaries like you to the spiritual journey of your work so that you can be inspired to live by your chart and become the luminary leader you are born to be. Low Hello luminaries. It's Leslie Tagorda. Back for a special episode all on gratitude. Now, I of course, I live in the States and this week we are celebrating American Thanksgiving and for all of its harm. They're the concept that I think most of us want to tap into is this feeling of abundance and gratitude. And of course, American Thanksgiving happens at the beginning of Sagittarius season. And this year, the day before American Thanksgiving on November 23. We have our new Moon in Sagittarius. Along with transiting Jupiter, the ruler of Sagittarius, stepping on the brakes to change direction to go direct in the sky again, this day is full of all of the fields around Sagittarius around Jupiter. And, you know, Jupiter's job is to go big, it's to expand. It's to believe it's to vision, its purpose. And that vision and purpose is not about the how it's not really even about the what it is about the why. And so this week as you practice gratitude as you look in your heart as you feel the fresh air, the sense of relief that we have finally arrived to this new Moon in Sagittarius. I want you to go deep within to find your why. I'm still writing high from the radiate masterclass that I put on back a couple of weeks ago and people are still sending me messages on how powerful that radiate masterclass was for them. People watching the replay, and I thank you to everyone who's already jumped in to star powered circle as a founding member. My heart is truly full and my soul is just feels like it's like jumping up and down for joy with just recognition because I finally got to this place where it feels easeful. There's still effort going in, but I know exactly where I'm going. And the reason why I know where I'm going is because what I've put into my masterclass radiate, I was finally able to connect the dots of why I found myself talking about the healing journey and all of the places where we get stuck in my client readings. And in my trainings, in addition to talking about how we are meant to radiate and express ourselves in the world. It was in this year that I finally connected the dots and realized my why. I remember at the very beginning of the year, I hired one of my favorite intuitives. She was offering your year ahead forecasts and readings. And she told me that I was really going to be connecting the dots in my work this year. And I was really excited about it. I had no idea how that was going to play out and how it was going to work out. But I did remember feeling that radiance, that belief, that inner y that inner purpose when she told me and you know, it is really really, really true. So I want you to get into your why especially with this new Moon in Sagittarius. And so this New Moon in Sagittarius, it happens on the 23rd on Wednesday at 2:58pm Pacific 5:58pm Eastern. And if you've been working with me for a while you know that I love new moon intentions because it's our time for once a month like clockwork the moon reminds us time to plant and clarify a fresh intention. So you can ask and CO create with the universe about what you want. Now this New Moon in Sagittarius, so the moon and the sun meet up at one degree of Sagittarius and we have our personal planets Venus and Mercury, also in Sagittarius. Oh, like I love Sagittarius. It is so hopeful and so abundant. It's so gregarious and generous and optimistic. Right? All of these wonderful things. We need this people after the last couple of months of the eclipse season and all of the intensities between that square off with Saturn and Uranus. Finally behind us, it feels like this New Moon in Sagittarius. He is sitting on top of a beautiful mountain range, pausing on our journey, not the destination, but pausing on our journey to take in the breeze to take in the view, to look down and see how far we have come all of the challenges that we have risen above and then continuing out looking further and seeing all of the other peaks on which we want to capture that view. And so this New Moon in Sagittarius ruled by Jupiter, Jupiter will we'll be feeling even more Jupiter that day, not just because of the new moon and Sagittarius but because Jupiter is shifting gears. Jupiter has been in retrograde motion for the last five or so months. And now that Jupiter steps on the brakes on that 28 degrees of Pisces, right so if you have anything on 28 degrees of Pisces experience a full like purposeful, envisioning just like the sense of like, arrival, right? The Jupiter's hits, that gets off of rivers and goes direct. And so when we, we start to feel those joopa terian energies at the time when Jupiter is changing directions. And so to say that the 23rd is a big Sagittarian go overboard day. You know what, we earned it, we deserve it. If you want to overeat or overspend within your means on this day, this would be the day to do it, to feel alive to feel abundant to feel just this wonderful sense of arrival. Okay. Now remember, last weekend, I went to go see a condo forever. And I'm not gonna give away any spoilers or anything. I'm going to say that if you haven't yet watched it, please, please, please watch it. Watch it. There were so many wonderful elements that I love from that movie that really spoke to me. The other leader no more from the other tribe is talking to Sheree, right? And remember Sheree is the sister of Black Panther. And he tells her How is never as important as why not gonna give you the context of what was happening in the movie. But this really sparked my interest because I hear myself telling my clients all the time, especially when it comes to creating new moon rituals and creating intentions for ourselves. How the How can really block us from our biggest dreams, and the why takes us directly to those dreams. So thinking about your life or your work and you're creating this big intention. I've seen so many of my clients really like not even ask for the big thing that they want. Because they can't get past the how, how am I going to do it? What's the strategy, I don't have enough money, I don't have enough time, I don't have enough experience, right? All these different strategies in the house that block them from even asking the universe for their big dream, just because they get stuck in the house. But when I asked them about their big dream and why they want to accomplish that big dream, all of a sudden, we can like full load past all the little house in the woods. And we get to that place of belief, that place of purpose, that place of vision. And that is really what Sagittarius wants for you in this season. So if you look at your natal chart and you look at Sagittarius of one degree, the house that contains wonder be a Sagittarius is that area of your life and your work that wants an upgrade that wants a fresh intention that wants you to ask the big question, why? So for me wonder, do you have Sagittarius right there at my moon is that six degrees of Sagittarius for me that's in the sixth house, the sixth house of wellness and healing. And I've been still working on kind of the back pain that I've been dealing with for this entire year. I've definitely picked up a little more weight than I'd like to this year. And I need to really answer that question about why do I want to have more health? Well, I want to have more health because I don't want to be in pain anymore. The why? Because I want to feel light. I want to feel vibrant, I want to feel alive. I want to feel like I can do all the things with my child and not have to say oh, don't I can't do that. That hurts too much. Why? Why do I want my business to run effectively? So that I don't have to work so hard work to the bone that I can work within my energy. What about for you? Where is that one degree of Sagittarius? Is it in your first house? Why do you want to be the leader? Why do you want to identify that way? You Sit in your second house. Why do you want to build value? Why do you want to make more money? And the third house? Why do you want to share what you know? fourth house? Why do you want to heal those inner parts of you? Fifth house? Why do you want to create and play? Sixth house? I've already talked about seventh house. Why do you want to partner and commit to others? eighth house? Why do you want to regenerate? ninth house? Why do you want to believe 10th? house? Why do you want to be the expert 11th house? Why do you want to be part of community and 12th house? Why do you want to transcend and connect with your highest self wherever that one degree of Sagittarius is asking why. And I want you to go really big with your why if you can answer that way, simply write that down, put that in your new moon journal so that you can look back a year from now six months from now, five years from now, on that big why? And see what you have accomplished. Now, New Moon rituals, again, are at the foundation, the cornerstone of my work in astrology. It's really how I came to really learn and love astrology and starting to integrate that into my work. And I really want to remind you that we have a few more days until my founding member rates and on December 1. And Blue Moon rituals are a big part of Star Power circle. Every month, we're going to be meeting up to put on plant our seeds of rituals and intentions together. Because these intentions when they grow together, they support each other. There's so much more power invested and concentrated in one area. And of course, when you get really clear each month of the year on what you want to create in your life, the universe follows because you're directing the universe in terms of what you want. In addition to star powered circle, there's going to be a training in the library that's called Moon rituals for business. And I'll share with you the insider tips on how to work with each phase of the moon during the month, as well as how to write the perfect intention so that you don't get stuck in the house. And so if you love new moons, and if you love working with the moon and being really intentional in your work, Star Power circle is going to be so amazing, I'd love for you to join in, you'll get these new moon rituals, you'll get the Moon Ritual training, you will get so much more. So head on over to starpower.com/forward/slash/circle. So before I go, I just wanted to share my gratitude. I'm so thankful for each and every one of you listeners who come and dedicate your time to astrology, to learn your inner journey to learn your outward expression. I want to thank the members of star powered circle that have already had a full body Yes, and jumped in at the founding rates. I want to thank all my clients that trust me and allow me to guide them with their stars. And I really truly grateful for all of my past experiences all of the challenges that were created for me so that it could direct me along this path. My life is wonderful. I'm super, super grateful. And I hope that you can find the power of that gratitude and the power of asking why for yourself this Sagittarius New Moon. I will leave you with this. A beautiful testimonial from one of my favorite clients Mickey. She said I'm so excited to be working with you in circle. I just love the way you see and do things with astrology. Thank you so much, Nikki and thank you you too for listening. If you're in the states have a beautiful American Thanksgiving. Do what you need to do to honor the stewards and the indigenous people that lived before you on your land. And enjoy your time with your family. Happy Thanksgiving everyone and Happy beautiful new moon and Sagittarius. As a human design projector, my energy shines more brightly because of people like you who share my work.
